

A photograph of two men in field gear. The man on the left is wearing a grey long-sleeved shirt, a grey cap, and a backpack. The man on the right is wearing a dark blue long-sleeved shirt with a Nez Perce Fisheries logo, a green cap, and sunglasses. They are both focused on a white and silver water sampling device. The man on the right is pouring red beads from a small white container into the top of the device. The background is a field of tall, dry grass.
